

We use UPAGE with approximately 500 users in the application. We use it as a backup for our code teams as well as other key personnel. I can say that this is by far the easiest product we have used. We have tried similar applications from other paging vendors as well as custom applications, all of which worked to some extent but none were as easy to administer as UPAGE. A simple task such as adding and editing profiles is intuitive, which was not the case with other applications. When we had questions, UCOM was very quick to help.

As for their service, I can't say enough. Aside from UPAGE, we have over 4000 pagers with them and their service is great. When I need to call them, the people on the other end of the phone are helpful and friendly.
